

Quick Start Guide to The Prevention Information and Evidence eLibrary (P.I.E. eLibrary)

The P.I.E. eLibrary is hosted by the UK Health Forum and aims to support those working in public health. The eLibrary is a free, open access library that focuses on collecting grey literature and latest news relating to the prevention of non-communicable diseases.

Grey information (material published by organisations and governments outside commercial and academic publishing) is often widely spread across the internet, but what is great about this resource is that it gathers together all the grey literature relating to public health and brings it together in one place and indexes it. This makes it much easier to find material relating to your studies and research, therefore saving you time when searching for such information.

This guide is intended to help you start searching the database and to save, print or email articles you find.

The P.I.E. eLibrary can be accessed via this URL: <http://www.ukhealthforum.org.uk/prevention/pie/>
This website allows you to browse or advanced search its content. Take a look at the website and the guide below to see which works best for you and the research you are doing.

Browsing

As you can see on the right hand side of Figure 1, you can browse by subject and publication types. Clicking on one of these categories takes you to the result list, which is automatically ordered so the most recent items appear first.

Tips when searching:

Remember that using synonyms (words with the same or similar meaning) and plurals of search terms can help expand your search.

The more information you input into the fields, the narrower and the more specific the results will be.
